

Consumer Outlook Augurs Good Year; Money Is Plentiful

Drop Is Expected in Pork, Egg Prices and Installment Terms Easiest Since
War; Cut on 'Luxuries' May Bring Lower Bills

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—There were some signs today of a happy New Year ahead for consumers—with money more plentiful, a drop expected in pork and egg prices, and the easiest installment terms since the war.

The good news for those who like ham and eggs came yesterday from the Department of Agriculture. It reported prospects of a record-breaking peacetime pork supply in 1950, along with a possible eight to ten-cent-a-dozen drop in the cost of eggs.

The Federal Reserve Board followed that up today with a report that:

1. "The tendency seems to be toward progressively easier terms for all borrowers" who are buying goods on the installment plan.

2. It expects an expanding money supply next year. This includes bank deposits (both checking and saving) and currency in circulation. It will be swelled by large public outlays by federal, state and local governments—made with the use of bank loans since tax income doesn't cover the cost.

It is probable that consumers will continue to pay the same rate of income taxes and also the cost of size products and cars is expected to rise. However, these increases may be offset in part by the mounting congressional drive for a cut in the taxes levied on so-called "luxury items."

That would bring somewhat lower telephone bills, cheaper transportation and saving on such other things as electric light bulbs, cosmetics, leather goods and jewelry.

The reserve board said in its monthly bulletin that installment terms already have eased considerably since "government" credit controls ended last June 30—most notably in the cases of new automobiles and refrigerators.

The one thing which would keep the supply of money from expanding, the board study commented, would be a "marked decline in over-all credit demands of businesses, farmers, real estate owners and consumers."

"The money supply," it noted, fell off in 1948 for the third year in a row. The total amount of currency in circulation at the end of November, the board said, was $800,000,000 less than a year earlier and $1,500,000,000 below November, 1946.

Like money, pigs were expected to be plentiful in 1950. The Agriculture Department said the fall crop this year is 10 percent higher than last year's while next spring's crop is due to be six percent bigger than in the spring of 1949.

Those two crops will make up the bulk of the 1950 pork supply, and increase probably will be reflected in lower prices paid by the consumer.

In a second announcement, the department said it will support egg prices at a level intended to assure farmers across the nation of an average income of 37 cents a dozen—compared with 45 cents this year.

"That policy, officials predicted, will mean a drop of eight to ten cents a dozen in the average cost to consumers. While a sharp cut in production could prevent that price drop, officials said, 1950 egg output is expected to exceed the 1949 figure by two or three percent.

In the steel picture, the S.A. report boost recently announced by U. S. Steel Corp. was spreading quickly throughout the industry, which was expected to pass it on to steel users and thence to the consumer.

The National Steel Corp. said yesterday it was following U. S. Steel's lead but holding its price increase to $5.50 a ton. Great Lakes (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

Start Procedure On Making File Of Blood Donors

Daily Supply of 8 Pints Needed From Local Blood Bank to Save Lives

Work on the organization of a file of prospective blood donors has been started by the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies, cooperating with Dr. J. Spotswood Taylor, director of the Kingston Laboratory.

Plans for listing donors were made at a meeting Friday of officers of the Health Division of the County.

At that meeting, Dr. Anthony Tocco, director of the laboratory blood bank, told those present that a consistent daily supply of eight pints of blood is needed to adequately maintain the bank.

There should be from 35 to 50 pints of blood on hand at all times to meet the routine demands and to cover any emergencies, he said.

Dr. Tocco cited the case of a young woman whose life was saved recently by blood transfusions. It was necessary to give this patient eight pints of blood (Continued on Page 10, Col. 1)

Dewey Won't Seek Presidency Again

Portland, Ore., Dec. 22 (AP)—A letter written by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey indicated today the New Yorker will not again seek the presidency.

The 1948 Republican candidate for the White House wrote his Oregon campaign manager, John C. Higgins, Portland, on the subject.

The former aide said he asked Gov. Dewey the presidential question because of rumors Dewey might make a third try for the office.

Dewey's reply said: "Nothing has occurred or will or can occur to change what I said the day after election last year."

"Nothing could arise now or in the future that would lead me to be a nominee of our party in 1952. My decision on this matter is as certain and final as death and the staggering New Deal taxes."

The New York governor added that he thought the Republican party's principles were the "only hope our country has of stopping the present drift to socialism in the national government."

He wrote that he would continue actively to advance those principles. At Albany, N. Y., James C. Hagerly, Dewey's press secretary, said the governor had no comment beyond his letter to Higgins.

Electronic Saboteurs Hinted To Guide Missiles in Cities

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Military scientists are considering the possibility of planting robot electronic "saboteurs" in an enemy city to steer a guided missile to a target.

A hint of this was contained in a pamphlet issued today by the Defense Department's Research and Development Board. It is a new edition of the "glossary of guided missile terms."

The reference was tucked away in a technically-phrased discussion of "semiautomatic homing guidance" in which a missile seeks out a target which has been "illuminated from a source other than the missile."

As untangled from such complex phrasing in explanation by one expert, this means that a missile follows a radar beam from a transmitter either located in, or pointed at, a city or factory. In the case of pointing, the radar beam is aimed at the target and reflected off at an angle. The missile would "ride" the beam of this reflected radar impulse and then blast the target with an atomic or conventional warhead.

The "suitcase" transmitter to illuminate the target for the electronic eyes of the approaching missiles could be deposited by agents.

However, variations of this plan also are possible, among them the use of a "pathfinder" plane to fly high above and beyond an enemy city. A whole fleet of missiles could be headed for the target, following a radar beam sent back across the target by the pathfinder plane.

Scientists are making progress toward development of missiles which will reach across oceans or continents, but there has been less progress toward attaining a missile which could pinpoint even a

Supervisors Pass Lower Budget for County for '50

T-Hact Likely To Continue During 1950

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act still is President Truman's No. 1 objective in the labor field. But Democratic leaders in Congress say they look for the law to stay on the books through 1950.

Mr. Truman's lieutenants at the capitol have indicated clearly they plan to advise the President it probably would be futile to try again for repeal—or even drastic revision of the law—at the new session opening January 3.

"So far as I can see, we just don't have the votes," one of the party chiefs told a reporter.

Thus repeal appears almost certain to be one of the stormy issues of next year's congressional election campaigns, just as it was in the presidential and other contests in 1948.

The Truman Democrats aren't unhappy about that. On the contrary, many of them feel the party's chances for success at the polls will be enhanced if the Taft-Hartley argument can be put to the voters again.

Repeal advocates have contended all along that Mr. Truman's election and the overturn last year of Republican control of Congress constituted a mandate from the people for the scuttling of the Taft-Hartley measure. They are working for a big enough margin in the Senate and House in 1951 to achieve it.

The administration lost its fight for repeal at the last session because a big bloc of southern Democrats lined up with the Republicans, while only a few Republicans voted with the Truman Democrats.

The G.O.P. focus of repeal, led by Senator Taft of Ohio, have argued that the majority of the voters want the essentials of the Taft-Hartley law kept.

Taft himself, whose campaign for re-election next year already is in high gear, says he has found that many rank-and-file Ohio workers are against erasing the present labor law. He says many of those who do want it repealed have a "prejudice against it."

The dim prospects for repeal this year don't mean Mr. Truman will not ask for it in the State of the Union message he is preparing for Congress. Both sides expect a renewed demand, and there may even be a stir toward carrying it out—one to which the Democrats point in the congressional campaigns.

No Serious Effort
But at this time no serious effort is being made in the House, which would have to make the next move.

The move is there because the Senate at the last session passed a labor bill and sent it to the House. The measure is a long way from being what Mr. Truman wants. It retains all the basic features of the Taft-Hartley law, including the labor-banned injunction against national emergency strikes.

The Senate bill, drafted mainly by Taft, went to the House after that branch had rejected the administration's Taft-Hartley repeal and came within a few votes of passing another bill which would change the Taft-Hartley law only slightly.

House democratic leaders finally succeeded in getting that latter bill sent back to the Labor Committee. There it has been ever since. All efforts to get an agreement on a compromise have diedlocked so far.

Port Jervis Youth Is Hurt in Fall

James J. Wohlseh, 19, of 10 East Main street, Port Jervis, one of a group of young men who came here last night for the Port Jervis-Kingston High School basketball game, was injured when he fell into a grease pit at an Accord garage, according to the police.

Mrs. J. P. Keefe, who said she is a friend of the young man's family, notified police at 8:40 p. m. She said the car in which Wohlseh and friends were riding had stopped to repair a flat tire and the young man fell into the pit as he was on his way to a wash room.

Wohlseh was taken to Kingston Hospital by Officers Walter Van Stoenburgh and Henry Ronnenberg, and the report said he suffered injuries to the left side and possible other injuries.

F.B.I. Makes First Entry Into U. A. W. Case; Police Report No Good Clues

Bad Fuse Is Good News

Detroit police examine a homemade bomb which was found jammed against a stairway in a three-story building housing the offices of the United Auto Workers, including President Walter Reuther's office. Agency Acts Under Law of Civil Rights: Taken on Order by McGrath

Detroit, Dec. 22 (AP)—The F.B.I. moved in today to have a look at the dynamite plot against the C.I.O. United Auto Workers Union.

It marked that federal agency's first formal intervention in what the big labor union calls a "terroristic campaign."

At the same time Detroit police disclosed they were without any sound clues to the origin of Tuesday night's explosive dynamite plant at union headquarters.

The F.B.I., acting under the Civil Rights law as well as other federal regulations, was ordered to investigate by Attorney General Howard McGrath.

The government's intervention was unprecedented in the U.A.W.-C.I.O.'s troubles.

This came as the union guarded its doors and looked its rewards total to nearly a quarter million dollars.

Neither in the attempted assassination of U.A.W. President Walter Reuther, nor that of his brother, Victor, did the F.B.I. intervene.

Under the government policy the F.B.I. enters a case only when there is evidence of other reasons to suspect a violation of federal laws.

Various courses were followed in the investigation, including a Detroit newspaper's private effort.

The Detroit Times, one of whose reporters was "tipped" to the intended dynamiting, invited his anonymous telephone informant to call again on a promise of "absolute protection."

Reporter Jack Pickering, who got the call, wrote a story beginning:

"PERSONAL: To the man who phoned me Tuesday night to say that U.A.W. headquarters was being bombed."

The story went on to say:

"You sounded like a man who didn't want fellow human beings to die—whether you liked them, hated them, or didn't know them at all."

"I don't know, naturally, what your part was in this, but your part didn't include wanting to kill. You're a different kind of man."

The pledge of "absolute protection" then was made. The tipster was urged to "call me, contact me in any way you choose, at any time, night or day, anonymously or otherwise."

Seeking a lead, police checked with the Wilmington, Del., manufacturers of the dynamite, and with retailers. But they admitted their clues were slim.

Thirty-nine wrapped sticks of the explosive were placed in a cardboard box at a side door of the U. A. W. building.

Chief of Detectives Jack Harvill pointed out that the dynamite might have been purchased by anyone without identification. It was of a type commonly used on farms, he said.

The container, a soap carton, could have been taken "from any grocery by a customer," Harvill said.

Boy Given Poison, Safe in New Jersey

Mother Had Given Him
Only Small Dose of Silver Nitrate

New Brunswick, N. J., Dec. 22 (AP)—A two-day search for a boy who was given a poisonous compound in mistake for a "ear sickness" remedy ended here today with the lad unharmed.

The boy's surprised mother still carried the poisonous silver nitrate solution obtained from a Philadelphia druggist in error. She learned from a friend that she and her 10-year-old son had been the object of the extensive search.

The mother, Mrs. Chester V. Stalker of Burbank, Calif., said she had given her son, Donald, a half-teaspoonful of the solution Tuesday night. He had become sick but recovered quickly, she added.

Mrs. Stalker said she thought the sickness was just another recurrence of the ear illness the boy had felt all during their trip east from California.

She said her son showed no apparent effects after the Tuesday night dose but would be examined by a physician later today.

The druggist set off the long search Tuesday after he discovered he had given the woman the silver nitrate solution instead of the ear sickness remedy.

The Pennsylvania Railroad made repeated announcements on its station public address systems in New York and Philadelphia, warning the boy not to take the compound.

Mrs. Stalker said she never heard any of the announcements or read anything about it in the papers. She learned about it during a visit to a former schoolmate, Mrs. John K. Quad, whom she visited last night for the first time in 22 years.

Mrs. Quad's husband, who is managing editor of the New Brunswick Daily Home News, said he became aware that Mrs. Stalker was the woman sought by the druggist after hearing her tell of her son's sickness.

A quick call to the Pennsylvania Railroad made contact with the Philadelphia druggist, he said. Mrs. Stalker to get rid of the rest of the solution without delay.

Believe Burglar Stayed in Store at Closing Time

An overnight burglary cost the local Montgomery Ward & Co. store a loss tentatively estimated at $4,500 in fur coats and other merchandise, police said today.

Investigation this morning by local police and the store management indicated that the theft was committed by a person or persons who remained in the store after it closed last night.

Harry W. Reppert, manager, said the 20 fur coats taken were about 40 per cent of the total stock on hand. Also missing, he said, were five men's leather jackets.

Substitutes Flabbergast New York Music Critics

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—It was "Die Walkure" night at the Metropolitan Opera—one of Wagner's biggest productions.

It calls for super-charged sopranos, lots of shining armor, and tenors big enough to handle both.

But the main things are the sopranos.

One of them is Sieglinde, who gets into a jam with her brother and doesn't make it to the final scene.

The other is Brunnhilde, warrior-daughter of Wotan the god. She gets in a jam of her own for insubordination. Puffy lusts her out of the Valkyries—the Valhalla Women's Army Corps—and puts her to sleep on a mountain top. Surrounded by magic flames, of course, to cool off the trespassers.

All this needs a powerful lot of singing, and the Met was rubbing its hands and chuckling yesterday morning.

It had two high-velocity sopranos all lined up. Polyna Stokas for Sieglinde and the Met's own Wagnerian prima donna, Helen Traubel, for Brunnhilde.

Then the roof fell in. First, Miss Stokas called up and said she was too sick to sing Sieglinde or anything else. Then Miss Traubel's doctor called up and said she was spending the night with laryngitis and not at the opera.

The Met worked fast. It jerked Regine Resnik out of her role as Helwig and told her to warm up as Sieglinde. To take her place, Maxine Streilman was promoted from the ranks of the Valkyries.

Then they called up Astrid Varnay who usually subs for Miss Traubel. But Miss Varnay, said so sorry, but she was rehearsing for a philharmonic concert and couldn't do it. That's when they got that sinking feeling at the Met.

Wagnerian sopranos are rare, not all American ballplayers. It looked like they'd have to change morning. (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Chairman Schantz Gives Praise to Board for Keeping Down Cost of Government
To Meet Dec. 30

Final Meeting Is Set:
Several Accounts Are Audited

A total net budget of $2,092,929 which must be balanced by direct taxation on the property of the county was approved Wednesday evening by the board of Supervisors. The net budget is $20,929 less than the budget for operation of the county during the previous year.

Following adoption of the budget, Chairman Schantz complimented the board for their cooperation in keeping the good work which had been done to keep the cost of county government down in the face of mounting costs.

While the net budget is $20,929 less than the previous year, the gross budget is $2,113,858, an increase of $20,929 over the 1949 gross budget of $2,092,929.

The last day of the 1949 gross budget, the amount was $2,113,858, an increase of $20,929 over the 1949 gross budget of $2,092,929.

The following items make up the net budget which will be paid by the county during the year ending Dec. 31, 1949:

General fund, $1,000,000; the county's share of the state's general fund, $1,000,000; the county's share of the state's general fund, $1,000,000; the county's share of the state's general fund, $1,000,000.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the board to accept the amount and levy of that year.

Summary of county budget will be found on Page 15.

British Are Concerned
at Conditions: Question
Two Provisions

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—The United States has reached a "substantially complete agreement" with its western European allies on the exact weapons they will receive under the $2,000,000,000 American arms aid program.

This was announced by Secretary of State Acheson, who has been in London for the past several days, after the United States had completed some British "warrant" on the conditions under which the arms will be given.

Acheson and not specifically a particular objection which British officials have raised in connection with the agreement, which each of the eight participating nations must sign to get a share from America's armory.

From other sources it was learned that the British had questioned two provisions. In one, they would be required to use the armaments only for the defense of the British Empire.

The other provision was that the armaments would be used only for the defense of the British Empire.

The American reply was that nothing in the agreement would require the British to do anything that would be contrary to their own interests.

On the other hand, it was pointed out that the United States is under no obligation to provide arms to any nation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Whittemore spent Saturday with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Whittemore of White Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McKinstry, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dunsberger and Mrs. Elvina Dunsberger attended a birthday dinner in honor of George Dunsberger at the home of his on-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wells of Modena Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wright and sons, Ted and Bobby, left Tuesday morning for a southern motor trip. They will spend Christmas with Mr. Wright's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wright of Chicago.

After leaving Chicago they will go to New Orleans and then to Miami, Fla. They also plan to stop at places of interest enroute.

The Christmas worship service will be held at the Reformed Church Sunday at 11 a. m. The sermon and special music by the choir will be in keeping with the season. The candlelight service will be held Friday, Dec. 23, at 8 p. m.

Thirty-two members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fire Department enjoyed a Christmas party at the firemen's hall Monday night. The hall was decorated with a table Christmas tree and red candles. Music was furnished by a portable violin. At the brief business meeting it was voted to give $50 to the polio fund.

and Santa Claus surprised the children and distributed gifts. Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Pupils of the Somers Central High School gave a concert on Friday afternoon at the John Gambling television program last Thursday night. Mr. Trum

Red Cars Speed Traffic

New York (AP)—Do you dislike having other motorists jockey past you while trying to drive at a safe and steady pace? If so, don't buy a red car, advises Howard Ketcham, color and design engineer. A test of motorists' reactions showed that drivers are more impatient when trailing a red car because red is the most stimulating color—hence the greater urge to pass. Cream and yellow colors are also stimulating, while black, blues and greens without yellow undertones are the colors less inclining to the driver in the following car, Mr. Ketcham reports.

A Tough Job for Santa

Chicago (AP)—Give the kids Christmas gifts that will make them use their heads and hands, advises Miss Melba Reay, instructor of arts and crafts at George Williams college, Chicago. "Because most toys are ready-made, children are learning to expect ready-made answers or printed instructions for all of life's problems, and never have a chance to develop the imaginative, creative spirit and skill that are so urgently needed in the adult world," she says. "Children need practice in executing their own ideas with their hands."

To Stay Sane

Chicago (AP)—To help prevent mental illness, try to build up whatever is best in your personality. This is the advice of Mrs. Helen Thomson, a psychiatric social worker in an article in Hygeia magazine. Most people spend too much time mulling over their own weaknesses and shortcomings, she says. "To safeguard our mental health we need to get turned around the other way. We need to focus on what's best in ourselves. That is the road to emotional health."

Safety Hints by Red Cross First Aid Chairman

For a truly merry Christmas, the chairman of Red Cross First Aid Service, Harold Sanford, offers the following holiday hints:

Place the Christmas tree in a pail of water. This keeps it green and hard to burn. Don't put it near a radiator or fireplace. This makes it dry and easy to burn. After the pine has turned brown, don't spruce it up with candles, use safety-inspected electric bulbs.

Don't decorate the tree by standing on a hastily-assembled pile of books instead of a step-ladder. Watch out for a lit match or cigarette around Santa's beard or the fur trimming on his suit.

The stairs can be one of the most dangerous places in the house at Christmas time, particularly if highly waxed and littered with toys and packages.

Toys, Christmas highlight for children, also can be a means of introducing adults into the kiddie circle. The introduction may prove violent if a wheeled toy, such as a roller skate, is stepped on.

Normally, more than a fifth of all home accidents occur in the kitchen, with the peak period of the year occurring around Christmas. Mr. Sanford warns against culinary ecstasies and offers the following suggestions. Don't leave pans and kettles of boiling liquid where they can easily upset or where curious small fry can push fingers into them. Keep children to use the living room, not the kitchen, as a playroom. Turn off the gas stove if it can explode.

Not all of the holiday high heels are confined to the home. Accidents can happen while shopping. Don't load yourself to the eyes with bundles and step from two to two parked cars into the line of traffic.

Last year the number of home accident deaths exceeded traffic deaths, 35,000 to 29,000. In 1948, the foregoing fact of life can happen again.

For Safety's Sake

An Indiana law provides that every high school student be required to devote a minimum of 10 hours each semester to the study of highway safety and motor car driving.

Of all the students enrolled in U. S. correspondence schools, more than 85 per cent are studying to prove violent if a wheeled toy, such as a roller skate, is stepped on.

PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION

Many months ago a British author, commenting on America after a visit here, declared: "I think parents in the United States obey their children very well."

When he said that, the Briton touched a sensitive nerve. There's little doubt that this ad remembrance comes pretty close to describing the fact in many an American household.

In countless homes Junior is king not because the family wants him to be but because home life is too disorganized for sound discipline. Always a mobile people, Americans during and since the war reached a new peak in their restless migrations, their shifts from job to job. There's a transient air about much American living today. In the big cities society often seems almost without root.

This "here today and gone tomorrow" existence doesn't make it easy to raise children. Last year's patterns may not hold for this year. Rules and standards are hard to maintain against a shifting scene. The kids break away easily, tending to fix their own rules.

On the other hand, a lot of parents want their children largely free of controls. This is, of course, the philosophy of progressive education and it embraces child development both at home and in school.

The idea here is to let the kid be natural. Let him do the things he's interested in, say what he wants to say, and so on. He'll be much happier following his own bent, the theory goes, than knocking under to some know-it-all parent or teacher. And he won't grow up as a tight little bundle of frustrations and inhibitions.

Sounds fine, and probably is—up to a point. But this notion, even though it's been kicking around for quite a time, is still being carried to pretty foolish extremes in many families and schools.

Mrs. Evelyn Barkins, a doctor's wife and the mother of three, feels strongly about this and she most likely echoes the sentiments of a lot of people.

Talking about children raised under the free-wheeling system, she says:

"They're given everything they ask for. They do everything they feel like. They monopolize the conversation. They're vicious and destructive."

"But the parents are so accustomed to it they just sit and say, 'Don't do that, dear' in a weak voice. The children pay no attention."

Kids brought up on the "don't inhibit the little darling" gospel found in many child psychology books are ruining social life and making their parents miserable hermits, says Mrs. Barkins, who happens to be an author herself.

No one really would want to condemn wholesale the progressive approach to child growth and education, for it has contributed richly toward modernizing our thinking about the subject. But anyone exposed to a few hours' contact with a "progressive" child may be inclined to second Mrs. Barkins' remarks.

To be sure, children are not brought into the world for the enjoyment and convenience of adults. They have a right to their own life.

But if that life is to be balanced and well-rounded, they must learn at an early age that not having, not doing and not saying are as important as getting their way. The world is a place of competing interests and desires. The children who are not taught soon that their will cannot always prevail are not equipped for living.

They will enter adulthood immature and ill-adjusted. The conflict, disappointment, frustration and defeat they will come to know will in most instances be far more damaging to them than the checks they suffer while undergoing good discipline as children.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

RUINING OUR CHILDREN
 The December issue of "The American Legion Magazine" contains an article by Dr. J. B. Matthews which every American parent should read and ponder. It is entitled, "The Commies Go After the Kids," and begins with this doggerel, issued by People's Songs, Inc., whose national director was Peter Seeger. On the national board of directors were Tom Glavin, Horace Grenell, Millard Lampell, Earl Robinson, Kenneth Spencer, John Hammond, Jr., Alan Lomax. People's Songs, Inc., has now gone out of existence but the songs still circulate. Here is the doggerel:

"When Jesus came to town, the working folks around Believed what He did say. The bankers and the preachers they nailed Him on a cross, And they laid Jesus Christ in His grave."

"Poor working people, they followed Him around, Sung and shouted gay, Cops and the soldiers they nailed Him in the air, And they laid Jesus Christ in His grave."

This song was written in New York City. Of rich men, preachers and slaves; If Jesus was to preach like he Preached in Galilee, They would lay Jesus Christ in His grave."

It is hard to show, during Christmas Week, precisely what our enemies are doing to our children. Perhaps the best resolution we can make during the new year will be to protect our children, our families and our country against those who would undermine its moral stature.

Dr. Matthews says: "A large part of the work which Communists do among children is under the supervision of the International Workers Order. The children's activities of the I.W.O. include costume dances, drum and bugle corps, dramatic plays, comic strips, short stories with a 'class struggle' angle, essay contests, and summer camps. The oldest and largest of the I.W.O. children's camps is 'Wo-Chi-Ca,' situated in the northwest New Jersey hills. The camp's name is derived from the words, 'workers' children's camp. Paul Robeson is the hero and best-known sponsor of 'Wo-Chi-Ca.' When he last visited the camp he said to the children who were camping there under these Communist auspices: 'When I look at you, I know the future is safe.'"

"All over the United States, there are summer camps for children which are run by the Communists and the numerous organizations which are under Communist control. The number of these camps runs into the hundreds. During the summer of 1949, not less than 50,000 American children went to these Communist-controlled camps. . . . So-called Liberals may say that we must let the Communists do as they choose because it is important to preserve freedom of speech, but it is also important to preserve our children. None of us would willingly put our children in a post-house; yet we often do not give a second thought to the corruption of their minds and moral welfare. We permit them to be corrupted. There is a law against the importation of the morals of minors; is that to be applied only to sex morality? There are other immoralities." (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

EMOTIONAL DISTURBANCES CAUSE ASTHMA
 It was learned during World War II that emotional disturbances caused many actual organic diseases, especially ulcer of the stomach and first part of the small intestine (peptic ulcer). It was also found that serious behavior problems and mental derangements occurred during and following these wars. However, the emotional disturbances could cause attacks of asthma, not in a few but in many cases, was unknown until more recently.

When it was discovered a few years ago that cold air, hot air, dust, fresh fruit, fumes, pollen of plants could bring on an attack of asthma, it was believed that all cases of asthma were caused by allergy or by defects in nose and throat. It may come as a surprise to many to learn that emotional disturbances can bring on an attack of asthma and that more often if allergy to pollen, dust, and other substance is also present in the patient's make-up.

In "The Canadian Medical Association Journal," Dr. P. W. Hardie, Hamilton, Ontario, states that it is generally recognized that asthmatic patients are strung-up, tense, irritable, overambitious and over-anxious, but too often this factor as a cause of asthma is overlooked by the physician. By careful analysis of his asthmatic patients during the past two years, Dr. Hardie discovered that in the great majority of cases of asthma, the emotional and allergic conditions are both present, with the emotional factor the more important in some cases and the allergy in others. Thus, in some cases the emotional disturbance is 90 per cent the cause and allergy 10 per cent, and in other cases emotion is 10 per cent of the cause and allergy 90 per cent. The suggestion is that while treatment for allergy and any defects of nose and throat should be given, it should be pointed out to the patient that his nervousness and disturbing emotions, by keeping him tensed, actually pave the way for asthma attacks, especially if allergy and defects of nose and throat are present.

Once the asthmatic fully realizes that his nervousness and anxiety are such important factors in causing asthmatic attacks, he may thereby acquire calmness of spirit, and many, if not all, attacks may be prevented.

Asthma, Causes and Treatment

The cause or causes of asthma were unknown until recently. Now that it is known that allergy, nose and throat defects, emotional disturbances can cause the attacks, most asthmatics can be helped. Sent today for Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Asthma," enclosing 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 95, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

and liver, two rolls, olives, peanuts, and sliced cucumbers, and plenty of bread with sauce into which the bread may be dipped. All this goes with one beer. Look for increased patronage for Egyptian-American ships.

RUSSIAN SECRETS

Secrecy is a Russian habit, practiced for its own sake, perhaps to keep in training for the time when really important information is to be hidden. The British report that the Soviet Trade Delegation recently placed an order for three foxhounds, two females and a male. Asked why, the Russians said, "We are sorry, but we cannot say anything about it."

Practiced in such trivial matters, secrecy is a disease.

The most popular member of the family about this time is the one who can suggest what to give Aunt Sally for Christmas.

'But I Tell Yuh There Ain't No Such Animal!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Most important backstage debate over U. S. Foreign Policy now involves Formosa, the strategic island north of the Philippines which Japan captured from China in the war of 1935. One pledge the Allies made to China in the recent war was that Formosa would go back to China.

But the last month General MacArthur sent a triple-urgent cable urging that Formosa be captured by U. S. troops for Japan. He warned that Formosa was a three-hour flight from Okinawa, two hours from Japan, and that the U.S.A. might as well kiss off all its southeast Asia program if it abandoned Formosa to Chinese Communism.

Behind this cable was the fact that Chinese Communists are readying a giant flotilla on the mainland to take this island, last remaining stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists. Also behind MacArthur's cable is the fact that Chiang Kai-shek, immediately after V-J Day, made the mistake of putting Formosa under one of his most unscrupulous warlords. Result: Looting, terrorism, and 60,000 Formosans killed. Most residents of the island would now welcome the Communists. Their taste of Chinese Nationalism has been sour indeed.

Prior to MacArthur's cable the joint chiefs of staff had decided to abandon Formosa. But his cable bucked them up. As a result, they have now agreed unanimously, have recommended that Formosa be claimed as Japanese territory and that a detachment of U. S. Marines, now on Guam, be landed.

The joint chiefs of staff are supported by potent Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. And this is where the clash occurs. They are not supported by Svyetle but equally potent Secretary of State Dean Acheson. He points out that to occupy Formosa with American troops on behalf of Japan, after Japan's long record of imperial conquest against China, would make us the laughing stock of the Orient. Furthermore, it would alienate Oriental races all the way from Batavia to Harbin.

Cutting Red Tape

Red-tape cutter Steve Early, the under-secretary of defense, raised Cain last week with molasses-moving press executives in the Pentagon.

"Too many memos, too much red tape, too much dillydallying," Early blasted, looking at Bill Fyfe, chief of press relations for the entire national defense department. Early, once a newsmen, and once press secretary to F.D.R., promptly relieved Fyfe as kingpin press arbiter over the army, navy and air forces. From now on, the navy can issue its own statements to the press as well as the army and air force.

Denfied Not Quitting
 Two men who were in the headlines over unification two months ago had a final showdown last week. They were sincere hard-working Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews and the man he kicked out as chief of naval operations, popular Admiral Louis Denfeld.

Matthews called Denfeld to his office, and demanded to know definitely whether he was quitting the navy. He pointed out that Denfeld had promised to give his answer by December 1, that it was well beyond that date, and that reorganization couldn't be held up any longer.

Denfeld explained that he was having trouble making up his mind. At first, he said, 70 per cent of his friends advised him to stick, but this ratio has now dropped to about 50-50. He had also been offered many civilian jobs—both in industry and politics. He had been invited, he said, to run for governor of Massachusetts and for the late Congressional House seat in Congress. But, he insisted, he wasn't interested in politics.

A few days later Denfeld wrote Matthews a letter rejecting the command of the U. S. naval forces in European waters though he is still remaining temporarily in the navy.

U. S. Diplomats Hounded
 Counselor George Kennan told Secretary of State Acheson that the United States may have to close down all its embassies and legations in Eastern Europe. Kennan, the ace diplomat on Russian, says the restrictions placed on the American Legation in Bulgaria are just the beginning of a Russian campaign to drive every American diplomat out of Eastern Europe.

American diplomats in Sofia are followed day and night by secret police, aren't even allowed license plates for their automobiles. Rather than submit to this high-handed treatment, Kennan says it would be just as well to break relations with all Russian satellites.

Death Better Than Russian

U. S. High Commissioner Jack McCloy has reported to Washington that Otto Grotewohl, prime minister of Eastern Germany, tried to commit suicide—because of the Russians. McCloy says Grotewohl and his wife tried to end their lives in Berlin after repeated arguments with Russian officers who boss the East German puppet government.

The Diplomatic Pouch

American diplomats in Moscow report that Stalin's 70th birthday yesterday may be his last. He is reported still vacationing on the Black Sea, trying to pick up weight lost after his latest heart attack. The Norwegian government has appended to the United States for three destroyers to help guard its coast against prowling Russian submarines. The Norwegians have spotted Russian subs photographing the coastline around Narvik. . . . Half a million American Catholics will make the Holy Year pilgrimage to Rome this year. They hope to build this into a crusade against communism. . . . Secretary of National Defense Louis Johnson has completed the defense budget for next year with a cut of 13 billion dollars. He believes we'll have more actual dough for preparedness than when we spent 15½ billion.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson will call another meeting of the Atlantic Defense Pact foreign ministers right after New Year's Day. . . . Admiral Richard Conolly will not leave his post as fleet commander in Europe, despite press reports that he will become superintendent at Annapolis.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Dec. 22, 1920—A cold wave began in the area with a drop of 18 degrees over Maryland.

Mrs. Julius Marsch of Delaware avenue, died at Kingston Hospital.

Miss Hietelitta V. Van Tasel and George L. Ellsworth were married at St. John's Church.

Richard S. Radman of Port Ewen, and Miss Helen F. Dunagan of Flatbush avenue, were married at St. Joseph's Church.

Dec. 22, 1939—The residence of Alderman Paul Zucra on Green street was damaged by fire.

The Kiwanis Club held its annual Christmas party at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

A testimonial dinner was given at the Governor Clinton Hotel for Eben F. Huswell, who had been a New York city water department engineer since 1905.

Joseph D. Keating, 35, who had escaped earlier in the week from the Greene county jail, was reported still at large.

Stringing Children Along

Chicago (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Bollnow had 40 tiny boys and girls from the Riverside Nursery School—and a problem—on her hands. She wanted to take the kids on a tour of the huge Union Railroad station but she didn't want to lose any of them. So she got a long rope. The tots grasped it and, strung out like snake dancers, they stayed in place as Mrs. Bollnow led them through the terminal.

President's Attitude on T-H Act Is Shown; Gray Case Taken as Sample

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 22—President Truman doesn't have to call for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. So far as he is concerned, it is already repealed.

An indication of his attitude was given in connection with his failure to provide a fifth member for the National Labor Relations Board as required by law. The fact that the term of J. Copeland Gray would expire this week has been known for a long time. Attention has been called to it repeatedly in the press. The simple announcement that Mr. Gray wouldn't be reappointed has been made but no mention has been made of any successor.

Usually when a vacancy occurs during a recess of Congress, the President promptly makes a recess appointment and confirmation awaits the next session. Whether or not Mr. Gray should have been reappointed for he has made a good record on the board—is a matter of judgment, and the President has a right to his own opinion. It does seem strange, however, that Mr. Truman would now indicate that he was wrong in appointing Mr. Gray in the first place, though the President rarely admits he can be wrong about anything. It could be that Mr. Truman has in mind making a political appointment, giving the post to some political friend who has rendered him support, and that he will send in a name to the Senate next week.

The line-up of the National Labor Relations Board has been three to two in favor of the labor unions. With Mr. Gray's departure it will be three to one in the same direction. There have been times when Paul Herzog, chairman, has sided with Messrs. Reynolds and Gray in what might be regarded as objective decisions, but apparently now, if Mr. Herzog and Mr. Reynolds should see eye to eye on some case, the Murdock-Houston votes on the opposite side would mean a tie. It seems improbable that there will be many such instances. For all practical purposes, the labor unions will have a three-to-one majority and hence it might be that Mr. Truman

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Dec. 21—A resident of Washington, who was pursuing a professional career in the government in 1917, related to me his recollections of Franklin D. Roosevelt's attentions to Miss Lucy Mercer, a beautiful young Maryland girl of aristocratic family, during Roosevelt's term as assistant secretary of the navy.

At the time of this marriage, says he, he was well acquainted and on good terms with Roosevelt. On the basis of an association earlier in their lives they sometimes discussed intimate affairs.

My informant says, Roosevelt " flirted " or tried to " flirt " with Miss Mercer and that she promptly quit her job as secretary and necessarily out of repugnance, for they later resumed their companionship, but to dissolve an impossible " situation." His recollection distinctly has it that Miss Mercer, later to become Mrs. Winthrop Kutherford, was Roosevelt's own secretary. Another informant interviewed during the last few days, a person closer to the Roosevelt circle than the first one, insists that Lucy Mercer was not Franklin's official secretary working at his office but Eleanor's personal secretary, working at their home, and, in a manner of speaking, a member of the household.

The first authority says Roosevelt confided that he had made advances to Miss Mercer and had been spurned. This person says Roosevelt then went to his wife and confessed. But, contrary to some other versions, Roosevelt did not tell this man that he had asked his wife for Lucy Mercer. He did not ask my informant if he thought he, Roosevelt, had done right.

My informant says he replied: "No I think it was a rotten case of exhibitionism." He said he felt that Roosevelt had no right

Afghan Schools Studied
Kabul, Afghanistan (AP)—The first educational survey of Afghanistan by an international body was undertaken here recently by four members of the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization. The party travelled several thousand miles and visited schools in every province. The survey was undertaken at the request of the Afghan government and marked another step in the Afghan program of modernization of educational system in the country.

Sail Under Foreign Flags

Athens (AP)—More than half of the Greek-owned merchant fleet, built up from virtually nothing since 1915 with American aid, today is sailing under foreign flags. According to E.C.A. figures, of a total of 765 ships, only 317 are sailing under Greek registry, as compared with 388 Greek-registered ships out of 427 in 1939. At the same time, present tonnage has more than doubled over the prewar total of 1,865,146 tons. An agreement with the United States, prior to Marshall Plan aid, provided 100 wartime Liberty ships to the Greek government, which in turn sold them to private interests for $360,000 each. Most of the ships were registered in Central American countries.

G.I.s Give Scholarships

Yokosuka, Japan (AP)—Sailors and Marines at the U. S. naval base shipped in for novel Christmas presents for several score Japanese children. The youngsters will attend a local Christian school with one year scholarships financed by American servicemen. Each scholarship is worth about $30. Mrs. Ann Johnson of Washington, D. C., wife of a navy dentist, and Navy Capt. R. O. Burzinski of Milwaukee, Wis., headed the drive.

Nevada is the only state in the United States in which average rainfall is less than a foot a year.

CAUGHT IN COUP—Gen. Sami el Hinnouli, above, head of the Syrian army, was reported arrested in the revolt of a Syrian army group that seized the government and the Damascus radio, and banished key leaders, in the third such coup in a year. General Hinnouli himself was a colonel when he seized control of the government in a coup last August. In that revolt, President Husni Zayin was killed.

As Pegler Sees It

throp, or Winty, Rutherford, was much older than his wife, the former Lucy Mercer, and was, in fact, a contemporary and friend of President Theodore Roosevelt. They were rich people and aristocratic and, in the phrase of their own set, now reduced in fortunes, "rather a hunting lot."

This person says Eleanor somehow always had a feeling of unworthiness to be the wife of a man so attractive and great as Roosevelt.

The Rutherford family is a rich and numerous New Jersey clan. In his childhood, Franklin occasionally had been taken from his own ancestral home at Hyde Park across the river to the Rutherford estates in New Jersey. He was acquainted with the Rutherford family long before he met the girl who was destined to rattle his life and marriage and indirectly to inflict Eleanor on the American people.

There is an exaggerated report that during the war the "government" compelled the Newark Evening News to suppress the story of a secret visit by Roosevelt to Allamuchy, N. J., the station for the Rutherford estate. Lloyd Feinley, the publisher of the News, says, however, that the ordinary "security" agreement whereby the press refrained from disclosing Roosevelt's movements was all that prevailed here. He holds that the visit was meaningless to the public anyway. His country correspondent sent in a routine item, treating Roosevelt as he treated hundreds of others in his accounts of coming and going.

D. Howard Moreau, editor of the Hunterdon County Democrat of Flemington, N. J., and one of the owners of the Hackettstown Gazette which covers the Allamuchy area, writes that, during the war, Roosevelt took his special train to the Rutherford place, which he called Tranquility. The train followed a roundabout way from Trenton over the Belvidere and Delaware and the Lehigh and Hudson lines.

"At Allamuchy the train stood all one afternoon while Roosevelt went up to the Rutherford estate and visited," Mr. Moreau says. "The train then went to Poughkeepsie over the Hudson bridge to Hyde Park. Railroad men all along the line kept special vigil and State Police had a small army of officers in addition to the army protection. One could not even pass into the area although a state highway runs from Hackettstown. The route was supposed to be an alternate in case the enemy might bomb the Pennsylvania or the B. and O."

"To a fine local newspaper man like H. Alan Painter, of the Hackettstown Gazette, the story was a headache because the readers didn't appreciate the censorship and expected the facts in full. Not a word could be printed nor even a word as to why it couldn't be printed."

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Dec. 21 (AP)—A hard core of dissenters stubbornly refuses to go along with the growing view that 1950 will see a new tide of inflation—meaning rising prices, with your dollar worth less at the store than it is today.

Some of these seers feel that inflation, if any, will be mild. Others say 1950 is apt to be a carbon copy of 1949. The general price level will decline a little in spite of rises in some commodities. Business will be in a healthy state, but not spectacularly so.

This view appears to have a sizable following in the stock market. The short interest is shown today to have risen to the highest point since July, 1932. Those who pick up the stock later at prices lower than today's.

The dissenters even challenge two of the strongest arguments of those who see inflation just around the corner: The treasury's deficit financing, and rising wage scales. They admit that both are inflationary because they put more money in circulation, but they see offsetting tendencies. As for the cost of living, they argue that bumper crops and surpluses, despite government supports, will hold food prices in line or a little lower, offsetting rises in rents and in prices of other consumer goods.

The President thinks the federal deficit this year will be $5½ billion. But an economic consultant to industry, Dr. Julius Hirsch, says that "a federal deficit of two percent of our gross national product would hardly be strong enough alone to bring about inflation—especially not if our average national productivity should rise, as it seems bound to do."

Production Hits Inflation

Rising productivity means producing more goods in each man-hour and machine-hour—labor doing a little more and having better machines with which to work. It means lowered production costs and a break on rising prices, and becomes a strong weapon against inflation.

Dr. Hirsch, who was secretary of industry and trade in the German Republic before Hitler's rise to power, estimates that a gain of two and a half to three per cent in output per man hour in 1950 would take from $8½ to $7¼ billion from total purchasing power. This would about offset new money to be pumped into the national stream through veterans' life insurance dividends, wage increases, higher minimum wages and pensions paid out. This balance is important because if purchasing power goes up, and the supply of goods does not, the result is inflation, and higher prices. Other additions to purchasing power next year include: An extra billion dollars over last year for Foreign Aid, including arming western Europe and perhaps helping to liquidate England's debt; another billion dollars for moving U. S. industry around to defend it from possible A-bomb attack; and a billion dollars more of residential and public construction than last year.

Deflationary Side

On the deflationary side, however, in addition to higher productivity are the following: A loss of $2 billion through lower exports and higher imports; a drop of $3 billion through the anticipated decline in business profits and business construction; a decline of $2 billion in farm expenditures.

As for the pull of wages toward inflation, the research institute of America predicts that labor's over-all earnings in 1950 will be about the same as 1949. The rise in hourly wages will be offset by increased productivity and more economical use of time and machines by management.

The institute thinks that "1950 will very closely resemble this year's pattern," but the "dominant reality will be the cold war, prevailing any real dip."

Noting the growth of the number of employed from 45 million in 1939 to 59 million in 1949, Dr. Hirsch thinks the 14 extra millions may be employed this way:

Three million, taking care of the needs of the increase in population; five million providing the higher standards of living set in the last 10 years; and six million at work, directly or indirectly, as a result of the cold war.

New Method Adopted

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Dec. 22 (AP)—Yugoslavia disclosed today that the Russian-led Cominform has adopted a new method of spreading anti-Tito propaganda here by dumping leaflets overboard from boats passing down the Danube. "They are feeding the fish with them," Information Minister Vladimir Dedjic told a news conference. "The fish are being poisoned."

Death Toll Forecast

Chicago, Dec. 22 (AP)—The nation's death toll in traffic accidents over the three-day Christmas holiday may reach 435, the National Safety Council says. The pre-holiday estimate is the largest ever made by the council. It said the estimate covers only immediate traffic deaths—persons killed between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Monday.

Rockland Light Seeks Authority To Construct Line

Marines Announce New Policy of Enlistment

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 22—The adoption of a new enlistment and reenlistment policy effective Jan. 1, was announced today by Maj. Thomas C. Dutton, officer in charge, Marine Corps Recruiting District of Albany.

Until now enlistments for young men with no prior service have been for three and four years. However, the major states that under the new policy, applicants accepted for enlistment must enlist for four years.

Former Marines also are affected under this new policy for they have until Dec. 31, to reenlist in the Marine Corps for two, three or four years. After Dec. 31, reenlistments will be for four and six years only.

Men between the ages of 17 and 29 and women 20 to 30 may inquire further at the Marine Corps recruiting station in Room 209, central post office, Kingston.

Press Boys to Provinces

Paris (AP)—French provincial newspapers are stealing away the circulation of the big Paris dailies, according to figures compiled by the French Press Federation. Latest estimates show the provincial press has about 7,000,000 readers, while the Paris press has only 3,800,000 readers. Before the war Paris newspapers sold about the same number of copies as those of the provinces combined.

Factory Work Is Slow in October, November Period

Manufacturing employment in New York state decreased by 37,000 workers between October and November, reducing the estimated total to 1,757,000—127,700 less than in November 1948—according to Industrial Commissioner Edward Corl. Losses in nondurable goods, particularly apparel, more than offset small gains in most of the durable goods categories.

Seasonal curtailment in many branches of the apparel industry resulted in a 10.6 per cent drop in employment in this field. Losses were particularly heavy in the men's clothing, women dress, and coat and suit industries, and in millinery.

Small gains were reported by women's underwear firms and accessories houses. In the leather goods group there were declines in shoe glove and handbag industries. Further losses in clothing and dairy products and a lay-off at one large bakery resulted in a net decrease in the food products group. Textiles, paper and other industries reported a slight increase. Settlement of the steel strike caused a large gain in the metals group and there were sizeable increases in several shipyards. The automobile industry recorded a small loss while increases in radio and television plants offset declines in other branches of the electrical machinery industry. Gains were reported by lumber, furniture and glass. Machinery showed a substantial decrease.

Questions Authority
John Broadhead 8 Post street, telephone last night he questioned the authority of a man who said he was a motor vehicle inspector. The report at 615 said Broadhead was forced to drive to the curb by the man who "reprimanded" him for reporting his car with a light and light Broadhead said the light had just been repaired and was in proper condition. The operator of the car that stopped him, he said, appeared to be in a hurry and took on the license plates given to him by police. Broadhead, revealed that it is owned by a Dougherty woman, he said.

Faye Undecided On Divorce Time

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Faye Emerson Roosevelt, estranged wife of Elliott Roosevelt, today put the brakes on a reported romance between the late president's son and cafe singer Gigi Durston.

The third Mrs. Roosevelt said she found the report "a little surprising" and that she "may not be able to get away to get my divorce."

Roosevelt had no comment on his reported romance with Miss Durston of Hartford, Conn. Yesterday Mrs. Gladys Durston, the singer's mother, said her pretty brunette daughter and Roosevelt were "interested in each other."

Miss Roosevelt, a pretty blonde, apparently took this as an announcement of an engagement. She told a reporter that her television program would keep her in town—maybe for two months, maybe two years.

"And when I get ready to get my divorce," she added, "I'll announce it myself."

Meanwhile, Miss Durston was unavailable for comment.

Still Get Presents

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 22 (AP)—Though Anton Henry Albert has been dead 26 years, people still receive presents every Christmas from him. Albert left $16,000—the bulk of his life savings—as a Christmas fund for people over 70. His will directed that earnings from the money be distributed every year at Christmas time to people over 70 and in need. This year checks of $13.50 each are being mailed to 29 of Spokane's elderly citizens. Albert was 72 and a bachelor when he died in a home for the aged in 1923.

Melville's Body Arrives in City; Funeral Saturday

The body of John Melville, former city marshal, and past commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, arrived here on the 11:12 a. m. West Shore train from Tucson, Ariz. He died there at a veteran's hospital, last Saturday.

A delegation from Kingston Post, headed by Commander Morgan D. Ryan, and another from the city administration, led by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk was at the railroad station.

His widow, the former Alverta Carey was present with other relatives including his brothers, Edward, Thomas, William, Albert and Woodrow Melville, also his brother-in-law, Cameron Van DeVeer, husband of his sister, Katherine and Eugene B. Carey, former mayor of Kingston.

The American Legion color guard was made up of Thomas Holton, Louis Tudoroff, Clarence Holton and Victor Osborne. Howland Shuler, past commander, represented Joyce-Schlick Post, 1384, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Donald G. Moore, past commander of Kingston Legion, and John R. Mayone, past commander of the Ulster County Marine Corps League were present, also James M. Conner, past commander of the Kingston Veterans' Association.

Harmon G. Rafnolowsky, a World War I veteran, and good friend of the deceased, was present from the Central Business Men's Association. Also Harry Whitney from the American Legion.

Many from various walks of life were at the station out of respect to the World War I veteran who had a host of friends made over a period of years as one of Kingston's official family.

Deceased is a son of Mrs. Katherine Melville of 33 Derrenbacher street, and the late John Melville who conducted a business at the corner of Foxhall and Hasbrouck avenue for a number of years after he retired from river transportation occupation.

The body was removed to the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, where friends may call this evening and any time Friday. His funeral will be held from there Saturday at 9:30 a. m. A solemn Mass of requiem will be offered in St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Services will be conducted at Kingston at the Jensen & Deegan Funeral Home, Friday at 7:30 p. m. Melville served as commander of the Legion in 1939 and '40. He left Kingston for World War I as one of its youngest volunteers and was with the 27th Division when it broke into Hindenburg Line, Germany's major defense.

Nicholas Brodhead, Former Resident, Dies in Queens

Harold Nicholas Brodhead, 64, a native of Kingston, who became vice president of the Century Federal Savings and Loan Association and manager of the association's mortgage agency in Forest Hills, Queens, died Wednesday.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Marie S. Schreiber of Kingston and a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Colberg of Chappaqua, also a granddaughter Virginia Colberg. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brodhead of this city.

Brodhead was educated in the Kingston schools and obtained his first job with the Wells-Fargo Express Company.

Brodhead went to work for the American Woolen Mills as a sample clerk in 1898 and later became a stylist in the company's plants at Providence, R. I., Burlington, Vt. and Worcester, Mass. He was credited with the creation of America's first line of fancy worsteds at the Wood Worsted Mills, Lawrence, Mass. He left the woolen business in 1927.

The Brodheads lived at Lake Mahopac in the summer and he was president of the Mahopac Point Home Owners' Association.

World War Veteran Dies in Hospital

Rhinbeck, N. Y., Dec. 2 (AP)—Roy Demar, 41, a World War II disabled veteran, died at Northern Dutchess Health Center here late yesterday a short time after he was found in his parked automobile.

Dr. L. Edward Cotter, Dutchess county deputy medical examiner said death was due to a heart attack complicated by exposure.

Demar was on route from Haverhill Veterans Hospital, Slaton Island, to his home at Chaumont, near Watertown. Two state troopers saw his car parked beside Route 9 near the Columbia county line and took Demar to the hospital.

Dr. Cotter said reports he received indicated the car had been parked beside the highway from 24 to 36 hours.

Go to West Coast Navy Station

C. H. SHOEMAKER BERNARD LOOMIS
Two residents of this area, serving in the navy, are attached to Air Transport Squadron 3, which was ordered to move its base of operation from the naval air station, Patuxent River, Md., to the station at Moffett Field, Calif., Dec. 1.

They are Charles H. Shoemaker, aviation chief electronics technician, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shoemaker of 104 Tammany street, and Bernard Loomis, seaman apprentice of Walkill.

This move of the navy's largest air transport squadron involved orders for over 150 oilcans and 800 enlisted men, together with their families.

VR-3 was the first naval unit to be integrated into the Military Air Transport Service under the Unification Law. Under the command of the Continental Division, of the Military Air Transport Service, the squadron made coast-to-coast flights from its base in Maryland.

In July 1948, when the Airlift was found necessary to supply food and fuel to the beleaguered people of Berlin, VR-3 was redeployed and flew hazardous North Atlantic routes to Germany in direct support of the units operating on the Airlift proper.

With the movement of VR-3 to Moffett Field it is anticipated that coast-to-coast flights will be inaugurated Jan. 1, 1950.

Funeral services for Eugene Cornwell of 19 Pine street, former alderman of the Eleventh Ward and for 38 years an employee of The Freeman Publishing Company, were held Wednesday afternoon from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home. The Rev. Nelson C. Munson of the First Baptist Church officiated. The services were largely attended by his many friends and relatives and members of the American Legion; 40 and 81st Pioneer Infantry Association which was represented by David Walsh, the founder and past president of the association of Albany. Past President Terry Roe of Catskill and Peter Kereman, treasurer of the association. Floral tributes were many and beautiful, showing the high esteem in which deceased was held by his many friends and in the organizations to which he belonged. Tuesday The Freeman Publishing Company, where Mr. Cornwell had occupied the position of head bookkeeper until he was taken ill about two and a half years ago, visited the funeral home to pay a last tribute to their former fellow worker. Members of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, and voyagers of Ulster County Vulture, No. 881, 40 and 8, held their ritualistic services. The services were conducted by Commander Morgan D. Ryan and Thomas Bohan, chief de gare. Members of Wiltwyck Hose Company No. 1, led by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and President William A. Kelly, also called at the funeral home to pay their final tribute to a steady short-handled and served as treasurer of the company. Members of the 51st Pioneer Infantry Association, led by President James Howard of Company M, and State Treasurer Peter Keresman of the State Association, paid their last respects to their departed member. During the time the remains reposed at the funeral home many others called to extend their sympathies and condolences to the bereaved family. Cremation was in Ferncliff Crematory.

Professional Advice

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—A psychiatrist today recommended that persons annoyed by Grand Central Terminal broadcasts could adjust themselves by window-shopping, buying a cigar or a soda. There are an infinite number of things you can do, he said, that your minds to offensive sounds. Dr. George H. Hyslop said. Dr. Hyslop was called by the New York Central system to counter testimony yesterday by a score of witnesses who objected to the broadcasts of music, commercials and news over the terminal's loud speaker system.

Plane, Transport Collide

Edenton, N. C., Dec. 22 (AP)—A navy P4U fighter plane and an army C47 transport collided in flight today five miles north of here. The fighter crashed. The damaged transport crashed-landed at the marine air base here. It had a damaged tail. The fate of the fighter pilot was not immediately known. First reports said the transport crew members were not injured.

Ban on Information

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—The government today tightened up its machinery for keeping scientific and technical data from going to Russia. The Commerce Department announced that "in exceptional cases" it will impose an export ban on export of technical information which is "significant to the national security."

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Buying strength came into the stock market today and pushed prices up by fractions to well over a point.

The buying was well distributed throughout the list with a few exceptions. The volume of trading expanded on the rise.

Railroads stepped forward by fractions to around a point with Illinois Central hitting a new high for the year.

Oils also were favorites with Richfield attaining a new high on the movement. Steel and motor stocks gathered their share of attention with fractional advances throughout.

Motion pictures lagged behind and showed small losses. Some of the mail order and retail issues turned down.

The market had been declining for three days from the recent forward surge that placed stocks on average at a seven-month high level. During the sell off this week, trading diminished markedly in contrast to the previous 2,000,000 share days that were frequent.

This morning the opening was mixed and trading was moderate. But as soon as the price curve started turning upward, there was an immediate buying interest apparent. Volume expanded to the best rate of the week.

H. C. Hopson Dies

Greenwich, Conn., Dec. 22 (AP)—Howard C. Hopson, 65, financial wizard who created a billion-dollar utilities empire that crumbled as he went to prison for mail fraud, died yesterday. He had been living in broken health for the past five years at a sanitarium here, Brookline Farms. Hopson provided a $300,000 investment into the vast Associated Gas and Electric System by a series of financial maneuvers that baffled the nation's leading accountants and lawyers. His personal fortune once was estimated at $74,000,000.

Reservoirs Decrease

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—New York's drought-ridden reservoirs continued to drop today as state and city officials prepared a deal with whom to blame for the water shortage. Water in the reservoirs went down 212,000,000 gallons in the last 24 hours to a level of 87,245,000,000 gallons, 34.5 per cent of capacity. On this date last year, which itself was below normal, there were 125,201,000,000 gallons in the reservoirs, 49.5 per cent of capacity.

Mum Is Convicted

Fresno, Calif., Dec. 22 (AP)—Paul Montes Gutierrez, 25-year-old cotton picker, was convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the rape slaying of 17-month-old Josephine Yanez. The verdict of Superior Court Judge Arthur C. Shepard, who held the case without a jury, was without recommendation, making death penalty automatic. Judge Shepard also ruled that Gutierrez was sane.

Army Cuts Pay

Washington, Dec. 22 (AP)—The army is cutting off all drill pay for 78,464 enlisted men and officers in 2,896 of its rifle, cavalry and tank units. The order goes into effect Jan. 1 for at least six months. Army officials disclosed the action today. They said a tremendous jump in the number entering the paid drill program has left the army without enough money to continue the payments.

The order affects 57,705 officers and 20,759 enlisted men.

This Was Different

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 22 (AP)—Usually a robber leaves the scene of a holdup, leaving his victim standing there. But it was different at Reuben Friener's grocery store last night. Friener told police a robber took $500 from him, then made him get into his car and drive off. The bandit just stood there in front of the store, gun in one hand—and, Friener complained, money in the other.

General Booth Has Hope

Hartford, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP)—General Evangeline Cory Booth, retired international commander of the Salvation Army, said today as she neared her 84th birthday that the world's not such a bad place after all. General Booth, who has lived here since 1939, will observe her 84th birthday Christmas Day. She has been ill and confined to bed.

EAT WELL for Less

Give Mother a Reprieve From Yuletide Work

EASY TO PREPARE—Fully cooked, ready-to-heat ham saves Christmas work and has a wonderful flavor.

By GAYNOR MADDON

NEA Staff Writer

Cut mother in on the Christmas fun. Urge her to plan the Christmas dinner around dishes easy to prepare. Keep her out of the kitchen as much as possible. That's a good formula for a Merry Christmas to all.

We asked the cooking experts of the Swift home economics laboratories to plan a "little work" family Christmas dinner for this column. Here it is:

Ham, of course, is one of the traditional meat selections for the Christmas dinner. And a modern tenderloin ham is one of the easiest meats to prepare. The genius there is little work to baking it in an open pan in a slow oven.

Hams for the Christmas dinner are available in two forms—(1) the familiar cook-before-eating type which, as the name implies, requires baking before serving; (2) the fully cooked ready-to-eat style which may be served cold or reheated for hot service. Either style carries complete baking directions on the wrapper.

For this year's "little work" dinner, they suggest a whole or half fully cooked ham. Menu: Hot spiced cider, crisp-spread crackers, celery, carrot sticks, olives, pickles, baked ham, cranberry gelatin molds, creamed potatoes, mushroom-stuffed onions, buttered peas, rolls, butter or fortified margarine, assorted cheese, fruit cake, chilled grapes, coffee.

The first course of hot spiced cider, cheese-spread crackers and relishes to be served in the living room requires little effort.

Cranberry gelatin molds for service on the ham platter are an in-advance job. Slices of canned cranberry jelly may be used as a garnish instead. Onion cups, par-boiled and stuffed with creamed mushroom soup, can be prepared and refrigerated overnight for reheating in the oven for about 30 minutes just prior to serving the dinner.

Cook the potatoes for the creamed potatoes the day before and cut into big cubes. Before serving, cover the cubes with a white sauce (cream of celery or soy soup may be substituted) and bake in the oven for a half an hour while the onions are heating.

A dessert to gladden the eyes is a tray of assorted cheeses, little bunches of chilled green grapes and thin slices of fruit cake. Coffee served at table or in the living room as you prefer, eliminates this easily prepared, memorable Christmas dinner.

This writer suggests whole fully cooked ready-to-eat style ham, cold, just as taken from the wrapper. It carves easily, is wonderfully flavored and needs no heating to be perfect. With all the other hot dishes, this cold ham for Christmas dinner not only saves work, but provides a different touch. Try it for a change.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Grape and apple bowl, poached eggs on toast, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, orange marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Codfish cakes, chili sauce, toasted brown bread, butter or fortified margarine, ginger pears, tea, milk.

LITTLE WORK CHRISTMAS DINNER: Black bean soup, lemon slices, cold sliced whole fully cooked ready-to-eat ham, scalloped potatoes, green beans and almonds, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, celery, olives, raw carrot sticks, pickles, molded cranberry and celery salad, mince pie, coffee, milk.

15 cents a dozen cheaper than a year ago.

Top grade eggs continued their long seasonal price skid this week, dropping two to 10 cents a dozen as production continued high. The Agriculture Department reported egg output at more than 3,800,000 last month—50 per cent above the average for the month—and said the rate of lay per hen was at a peak in all parts of the country.

Milk production for November exceeded 8,800,000,000 pounds and topped the previous record for the month, set in 1946, by one per cent.

Coffee Prices Higher
Retail coffee prices edged slightly higher in some stores. V. F. Williamson, manager of the National Coffee Association, said shoppers can expect to find coffee staying at the present level or somewhat higher for a long time because "many companies' prices lagged far behind replacement cost in an effort to protect the consumer, and these will now have to come up to the new higher basis." He added that there is very little low price coffee left in anyone's inventory.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale price index this week declined one cent from a week ago to $5.73 and compared with $6.23 a year ago. The figure represents the wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 general use foods.

Food Review

(By The Associated Press)
Turkey prices declined two to six cents a pound in most places this last week before Christmas—and were about 20 cents cheaper than the all-time highs of last Yuletide.

Family-sized birds averaged around 57 to 59 cents a pound in many highly competitive chain stores across the nation. And poultry men reported them plentiful in all sizes. Gobblers weighing more than 15 pounds were generally 10 to 12 cents a pound cheaper than smaller birds.

Cranberries were mostly unchanged from Thanksgiving time. And holiday menu planners looking for something besides turkey for the main course found hams, pork loin roasts and rib beef roasts costing about the same as a week ago.

Prices of many fresh vegetables for the menu side dishes were a little lower this week: Celery, radishes, tomatoes, snap beans, cabbage, cucumbers, chicory, onions, peas, peppers, spinach.

In New York's huge produce market, the only vegetables higher than at last Christmas time were snap beans (the Florida crop was damaged by a freeze late last month), carrots (affected by unfavorable growing weather in California recently) and onions.

Nuts Are Abundant

Nuts for turkey stuffing, fruit cakes, mince pie and the nut bowl were so abundant that the Agriculture Department included them among the most-plentiful foods for the pre-Christmas week. Raisins were on the list, too.

Oranges were being widely featured for holiday fare—with some California varieties as much as I know that a great many of my bridge fans are reading my Canasta column, which I am writing twice a week. If you read the column you will have noticed that each week I consult with John Crawford of Philadelphia, who is rated as the outstanding Canasta player of the country. He also is one of the greatest card players in the world and in today's hand he gives you a great lesson on the play of the hand.

It is a rather difficult hand to bid. North, by his cue bid of two clubs, showed a tremendous hand. When South bid and re-bid hearts, North took a lot upon himself by jumping to six hearts.

"After all," said Crawford, "I may have had five or six little hearts, but when your partner puts you into a contract it is not up to you to start to criticize his bidding, if you have a possible chance to make the hand."

Crawford, sitting South, trumped the opening lead of the king of clubs with the deuce of hearts. He thought for a long time. Should he cash the ace of hearts and then lead a small heart? Crawford said, "If I did I could see that West would simply lead another club. I would have to ruff in dummy and West would be bound to make another trick, because dummy would be locked in."

So at trick two Crawford played the seven of hearts from dummy. West won the trick with the king and tried to put up the best defense he could. He played another club. Crawford, very carefully, trumped this trick with the ace of hearts.

He then played the ten of hearts and overtook it in his own hand with the queen. He picked up the last trump and the balance of his losers were discarded on the good diamonds.

In Zuluand, the atmosphere is so clear that objects can be seen by starlight for seven miles.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER.

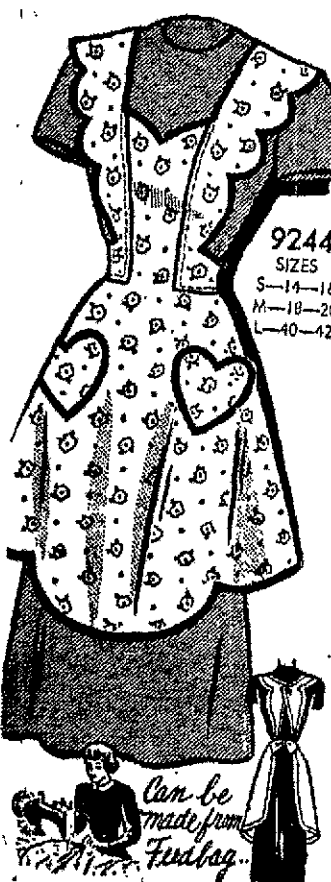

Quoting from an item in Thursday's, June 30, 1887, Kingston Weekly Freeman and Journal, "The Freeman recently asked City Clerk Augustus Schepmoes to investigate and report on Kingston's industries, as it was said, that Kingston City ranks second to none in the state in the character and volume of its wage-creating industries."

The item further stated: "Mr. Schepmoes first visited the several brick manufactures. There are five brickyards located in the city and several just outside, of course the yards outside the city also employ many men from Kingston and therefore promote the prosperity of this city. In the brickyards located in the city there are employed 502 men as follows: One hundred and fifty men at A. S. Staples; 50 at Robert Maine; 55 at Franklin Fredericks; 112 at Terry Brothers and 135 at William Hutton's. In addition to the above, 10 barges are employed in the transportation of their products, giving employment to 42 additional men as follows: A. S. Staples has three barges with 12 men; R. Maine, one barge, five men; F. Fredericks one barge, eight men; W. Hutton, three barges, 12 men. Making a grand total of 544 men and boys employed in the manufacture of brick in this city, to whom are paid annually an aggregate of $182,000, for wages earned. In addition to this, about 7,300 cords of wood are annually used, for which is paid $31,000. This wood is mostly obtained from the forests of adjoining towns, there by promoting a business in county. Mr. Schepmoes' data covering the various phases of industries in Kingston were to be re-published in the "New York Gazetteer."

Under business notices the following appeared: "A large lot of wagons, consisting of platforms, surveys, top and open buggies, buck boards, business wagons, mountain wagons, two-seat family wagons, and also three-seat carriages; cheap, near Highville Depot. Also dog carts. Herdman and Perrine, Kingston, Ulster county, N. Y."

Among the news items I find Kingston was really known for a wagon manufacturing center. "One of the handsomest wagonettes for carrying passengers ever built in this city was shipped to Marlborough today, for James O. Mackey, from J. M. Mayer's wagon manufactory, Rensselaer. The new vehicle will be used by Mr. Mackey to convey passengers from the West Shore depot and the steamboat landing at Marlborough. It has comfortable seating room for 14 persons, and is an easy riding wagon. Its running gear is painted in Fulman car colors, the main body an olive green, and the panel work in rose lake. The top is of narrow strips of ash and black walnut, closely laid together, finished off in oil and varnish. I'd just love to see one of those old time wagon artists trim a modern stream-lined auto or bus, with such colors as rose lake and olive green and a lot of decorations.)

Another item reads: "Three cowboys are at Saugerles, with a drove of 100 mustang ponies. Wouldn't the youngsters go wild if they saw that today. Most of them know horses only from ranch moving pictures."

White House Bricks
Washington, D.C.—Officials estimate about 500,000 old bricks will be removed in rebuilding the White House, but many of them will be put back. The bricks are slightly larger than today's standard size.

Only about one half of one percent of a modern "tin" can is tin.

Santa Claus Has Conflict With Reds

Washington, Dec. 22 (UP)—Now even Santa Claus is on the conflict with Russia.

The jolly old gent will play a leading role on the "Voice of America" broadcasts to the Russian people this Christmas season. The idea is to show the Russians what a fine season Christmas is in the land they are taught by their government to hate and fear.

Heavy emphasis also will be placed on the religious significance of Christmas.

In Russia itself, officials here expect that this year, as in the past, the Soviet Santa Claus will serve not as a dispenser of good cheer but rather as a mouthpiece of Communist propaganda.

Around the State Department, where every aspect of Russian life is put under the microscope, some odd facts have been turned up about the official Russian attitude toward Christmas.

The theme, authorities here said, is to be found in the "Large Soviet encyclopedia" which, in the 1941 edition declared:

"In the Soviet Union the celebration of Christmas by believers is a most harmful reactionary survival of the old capitalist past. Like every religious holiday, Christmas is kept alive and supported among backward groups of workers by reactionary religious prejudice."

In the early years of the Soviet regime, an attempt was made to end the Christmas celebration completely. The sale of Christmas trees was forbidden and the familiar ornaments and decorations of the season were not offered in Russian stores. This attempt failed.

"The next move of the Communists was to divert the pagantry and symbols of Christmas to new uses. Instead of holding the celebration on the traditional Russian Christmas Day of January 7 all the ceremonies are now focused on New Year's Day.

Christmas trees have become for Soviet citizens "New Year's trees," presents are given on New Year's Day and the acceptable greeting for the holiday season is "Happy New Year."

Christmas Spirit Burns in Little Mountain Town

Shallmar, Md., Dec. 22 (AP)—The spirit of Christmas burned brightly in this little mountain town today.

And it is spreading to other poverty-stricken communities of the mountain area.

All but a few of Shallmar's 200 residents were utterly destitute a few weeks ago.

There had been no work in the community since its only mine closed down in March for lack of orders.

Thin, scantily clad children became faint in school for lack of food. Some families had subsisted for weeks on a diet made up mainly of potatoes and apples.

Then the plight of the town and its 80 children leaked into the outside world.

Soon trucks loaded with food and clothing started bumping their way over the narrow mountain road to Shallmar. The packages were sent from all sections of the country.

Hundreds of toys arrived and the mails brought letters from each of the 48 states. Many contained a coin or a check. More than $5,000 is on hand now. It will be used to assure that lunches for the children.

In all six and one-half tons of clothing and foodstuffs have been sent to Shallmar.

That would have been enough to carry the community for a long time.

But Christmas is coming—and many families of nearby Maryland and West Virginia communities also have been facing a cheerless Yule.

So Shallmar is dividing its gifts with less fortunate neighbors.

Seventy neighboring families have received Shallmar food baskets in the last day or two. The children of 30 families have been clothed from Shallmar stocks.

Many toys are being repaired by the men of the town. They will be sent to mountain homes where Christmas stockings would have been empty.

Shallmar has given so much that there is just enough food left for the week-end.

But this is a big week-end. The folks here are glad they have had a chance to spread the spirit of Christmas.

Rumors Are Denied

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 22 (AP)—A U. S. legation spokesman today denied rumors circulating in Vienna that Hungarian police had released Robert A. Vogler, American businessman arrested November 18 on espionage charges. The spokesman described the reports as "unfounded and irresponsible rumors."

The U. S. State Department Tuesday demanded the release of Vogler, assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, and banned travel by Americans to Hungary.

She Was Divorced

Hollywood, Dec. 22 (AP)—Clark Gable's fourth wife, the former Sylvia Hawkes, was divorced in London June 15, 1948, by Lord Stanley of Alderley on grounds of desertion. She did not obtain the divorce herself, as stated in a previous Associated Press dispatch.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

At this season of the year the Ruminator thinks you may be a bit weary of reading business news; predictions for 1950, and economic interpretations.

Of course the rise in steel prices is an invitation for an article, but that will wait as the repercussions will be with us for some time.

So, to keep a sense of humor—and if you are bewildered and befuddled over the future, I say—

CHEER UP! Every Day Be Christmas Bye and Bye.

However, while you are waiting for this blissful state of Christmas-every-day, won't you accept from the Ruminator an old-fashioned, once-a-year Yuletide Greeting.

After Christmas, when you sit down to plan your New Year's resolutions, may I suggest: you give heed to some of the following? (Frankly, they are paraphrased from a somewhat similar set of statements attributed to Abraham Lincoln—though it is doubtful if he ever wrote them.)

You cannot have a Happy New Year without giving happiness to others during the year.

You cannot get something for nothing even if you do believe in Santa Claus.

You cannot induce money without defrauding the people.

You cannot have a cheap dollar without making everything else dear.

You cannot become strong by taxing your strength, and—

You cannot produce wealth by taxing production.

You cannot cut down on your debts by adding to your deficits.

You cannot help small business by killing off big business.

You cannot have a welfare state without saying farewell to private estates.

You cannot pull yourself up by your boot straps without falling flat on your face.

You cannot gain security by losing initiative.

You cannot lift yourself by leaning on others.

Those all sound "old hat," I suppose, but I cannot help but think Christmas is at hand, and when a New Year is just around the corner some of these old-fashioned thoughts are wholesome.

Next, I believe that a sense of humor will be the most needed trait as we enter 1950—as we start the second half of an extraordinary century.

We read much today that everything is bright and cheerful—on the up-and-up. That the war and many of the postwar problems are behind us. That is indeed a happy state of wishful thinking.

Why kid ourselves? Isn't it more realistic—and far safer for our peace of mind—if we recognize boldly that we are still in a postwar period of "no peace?"

Why not face squarely the fact that we shall undoubtedly meet troublesome weeks, perhaps months, in the year ahead?—but that if we keep our sense of humor attuned to the smiling pitch we shall sail through the worrisome times, if they happen to come along, without losing our balance?

That makes sense to me. It is a peculiar quirk of human nature that we Americans can withstand a heavy dose of bad news—and of course we get all excited when everything is booming. But, give us uncertainty and we crumple up. Odd, when you stop to think about it.

The best antidote to uncertainty is a sense of humor. When the outlook is uncertain we say to our selves, like the chap in the poker game—"My luck was terrible for a sense of humor is a good thing; then changed and got much worse." We can even enjoy uncertainty when we ruminate that certainly when we change and news after Christmas become exceedingly good. And if they turn out bad, we say to our selves, "My luck was terrible for a sense of humor is a good thing; then changed and got much worse." We can even enjoy uncertainty when we ruminate that certainly when we change and news after Christmas

MacArthur Begins Probe of Missing Jap War Prisoners

Tokyo, Dec. 22 (AP)—General MacArthur today denounced "callous" Soviet "hypocrisy" and started a move for independent investigation of the fate of 376,000 missing Japanese war prisoners captured by the Russians.

He said he had requested Washington to begin negotiations for an investigation either by a neutral nation or the International Red Cross.

The American occupation commander issued one of his strongest attacks against the Soviets after a Russian walkout of the Allied Council for Japan yesterday. This was followed by renewed Russian charges the United States was assisting the revival of Japanese Fascism.

The Soviet mission was under determined siege by 200 Japanese representatives of anxious relatives of missing war prisoners. They were told the Soviet answer to requests for information on further repatriation "appeared in this morning's papers."

Presumably this referred to a letter charging "oppression" by the Japanese government which Lt. Gen. Kusuma Derevyanko, head of the Soviet mission, addressed to General MacArthur.

MacArthur said the letter showed "a callousness of hypocrisy I can not fail to denounce." He termed it a "smokescreen" to distract attention from the repatriation issue.

On Christmas Day, the Methodist Churches of Clintondale and Modena will unite in an early service at 9 a. m. to celebrate the Holy Birth Day. In a short but beautiful service the junior choirs will sing traditional Christmas carols, the congregation will unite in adoration and praise and the Rev. Mr. Adams, pastor, will bring a message for the occasion entitled, "Is Christmas a Beautiful Fable, or Is It the Answer to Peace?" All are invited.

Liquor retailers must obtain local licenses before being granted state licenses in Illinois and Georgia.

C.A.R. Plans Holiday Tea Dance at Chapter House Next Wednesday for Members, Guests

Catskill Glee Club
Gives Christmas Program

The annual Christmas concert given by the Catskill Glee Club was presented Tuesday night at the First Reformed Church, Catskill. The Glee Club is in its 23rd year and contains many members from the Saugerties area of the county. Rolland Heermance was conductor with Donald S. Fellows, assistant and Ruth N. Coons, accompanist.

The club was assisted in the concert by Sara Carter, soprano, who sang three groups of solos. The Glee Club opened with a group of songs including the "Plinkers" Song from DeKoven's Robin Hood, Swedish Hiking Song and followed the four other groups of songs of many concert favorites. The concluding group for Christmas was "Alleluia For Us, a Child Is Born" Bach; "O Holy Night," Andrews, with Miss Carter singing the solo part; and "O Come, All Ye Faithful" arranged by Baldwin.

The club has scheduled approximately 25 concerts for the year and will sing in Webb Horton Memorial Church, Middletown, January 18.

There are 62 active members; 83 patron members and 122 associate members.

Following the concert all were entertained at a Dutch treat party in the church chapel.

A holiday tea dance is planned for Wednesday, December 28, under the auspices of the Children of the American Revolution at Wiltywyck Chapter House. The dance will be held from 4 to 7 p. m. Members will be given guest privileges for the affair.

Miss Betty Empringham is general chairman and serving on the committee with her are Richard Torrens, Miss Barbara Smith, Miss Joan Wilson, Miss Geraldine Billings and Miss Alice Millonig. The young people are being assisted by Mrs. Adam H. Porter, regent, and Mrs. Harold F. Smith.

Nu Phi Mu Has Christmas Dinner

Nu Phi Mu sorority had its Christmas dinner Monday night at Judd's Restaurant. Those attending were the Misses Mae Bowcock, Ruth Buddenhagen, Sally Nicolosi, Dolores Schick, Terry Carr, Artemis Goumas, Shirley Swarthout, Sheila Gruber, Anne Dittmar, Justyn Hallinan, Joan Otto, Irene Janakis, Mrs. Robert Matthews, Mrs. Edwin Schum and Mrs. Robert Moser. Miss Mildred Petruski, Miss Gladys Weidman, who are advisors for the girls, also were present.

Following the dinner, the girls were invited to the home of Miss Anne Dittmar, 269 Smith avenue. Each girl has a secret pal for the year known as her Rosebuddy, to whom she sends gifts at birthday and Christmas. These Rosebuddies were revealed at the party. Gifts were exchanged to reveal the identities.

The girls sang Christmas carols and were accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Buddenhagen and Miss Dittmar. Refreshments were served.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Ambrosio, 361 Hasbrouck avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, James Harvey, born Sunday, December 18, at the Kingston Hospital.

Miss Anne Marie McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy McConnell, Port Jervis, is vacationing for the Christmas recess from Traphagen School of Fashion, New York, where she is majoring this year in costume design and illustration.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

WELCOMING NEW RELATIVE

A newly engaged man's aunt asks: "What are we expected to do about welcoming a nephew's new fiancée into our family? I'd thought this was up to his own immediate family, but I'm told you have said other relatives are expected to do something too. If this is true, will you tell me how to go about doing whatever it is we are supposed to do?"

It is not at all necessary to give her a party but merely to make her feel welcome. Ask her to dinner if you can, or to lunch or to have a cup of tea with you in the afternoon.

Advising Friends of Visit

Dear Mrs. Post: Evidently I did something wrong. The situation was this: Knowing that I was to be in the city of people who were neighborhood friends a few years ago, I wrote them telling where I would stay and how long and expressing a wish to see them. I expected a message at the hotel or at least that they would telephone sometime. Nothing! So I left without making any further move, because my having written on ahead seemed to leave nothing else for me to do. What should I have done to do?

Answer: You might have telephoned them after not hearing for several days. At any rate, it might have made you feel better to discover what was probable—that they were not in town, or that there was some other reason preventing their seeing you.

Why Not Christmas Remembrance?

Dear Mrs. Post: I've been riding to work with a fellow employee who lives up my street. I don't know his wife and child. He refused to take any compensation for picking me up every day. Can you understand that I'd like to do something nice for him? May I give him a present, or one for his family, or what may I do? If a gift, what should it be?

Answer: I think a nice thing would be a Christmas present for the child. Or, if you know what he likes to smoke, some smokeables for him.

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be courteous to have the maid take serving dishes to the right of any guest we know is left-handed, or is it better not to pay attention to someone's difference from other people?

Answer: Do not change your service in any way for a left-handed guest. They would, in fact, be confused.

Are you planning to give a "hostess-alone" dinner party? Mrs. Post tells how to prepare the dinner and how to serve in a simple manner in her booklet, No. 503, "Etiquette of Service." To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Christmas Eve Custom

All Ulster County Girl Scouts will join in the custom of lighting candles in their windows at 6 o'clock, Christmas Eve. The first candle for the county troops was lighted by Mrs. Everett Coty, commissioner at the December meeting of the council. The council members carried the custom back to their districts where leaders received the lighted candles to take to their troops. As the candles are lighted a silent prayer for peace on earth, good will toward all men, is offered. Representatives from Brownie Scout troops of the city will participate in a candlelighting ceremony in the Governor Clinton Hotel Lobby Christmas Eve. Mrs. John Valentine, leader of St. Joseph's Troop 39 lights candles for Scouts Carolyn Valentine, Troop 40 and Marilyn Valentine, Troop 67. (Freeman Photo)

Roland J. Brown, Marie Stokes Wed At Stone Ridge

High Falls, Dec. 22 (AP)—The marriage of Miss Marie, Ann Stokes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Stokes of this village, to Roland James Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elting Bowen of Mount Tremper, was performed Saturday, December 17, at 2 p. m. in the parsonage of the Reformed Church at Stone Ridge. The Rev. Gerrit Timmer officiated.

The bride wore a gray tailored suit with brown accessories, a leopard skin coat and hat to match and a corsage of pink roses. Miss Grace Nicholas was maid of honor.

Eugene Terwilliger was best man. Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a short wedding trip and are now living in High Falls.

The bride is employed in an electric plant in Tillson. Mr. Brown who served in the navy during the war is employed at Hutchins Trucking Co., High Falls.

It is estimated that the population of India is increasing at the rate of about 3,000,000 a year.

Stanley Krisniski Weds Alice Sowles

Miss Alice Sowles daughter of Mrs. Mary Sowles, 24 Jane street, Saugerties, was married to Stanley V. Krisniski, Cementon, son of Victor Krisniski of Hudson, Sunday at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church, Cementon. The Rev. Philip Zingorelli officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Eva Dunn was organist and the church choir sang Ave Maria and Panis Angelicus. White mums and white ribbons were used for decorations in the church.

Stanley Saltsburg, brother-in-law of the bride, escorted her. She wore a white slipper satin gown designed with collar of seed pearls, and train fingertip veil of imported silk illusion attached to a satin bonnet trimmed with pearls and ostrich tips. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses centered with a few red roses.

Mrs. Helen Stafford of Saugerties, mother of honor for her sister, wore a peacock blue slipper satin gown with matching bonnet and ostrich plume and carried American beauty roses.

Frank Krisniski of Hudson was his brother's best man. Peter Krisniski, Hudson brother of the bridegroom, and Stanley Sinkovich, Malden cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception for 60 guests was held at Frever's Inn, Barclay Heights, Saugerties. Afterward the couple left for a wedding trip to New York city. She wore a beige gabardine suit with cocoa brown accessories. They will live in Denver, Colo.

The bride was graduated from Saugerties High School and Our Lady of Victory School of Nursing, Benedictine Hospital. Her husband was graduated from Saugerties High School and attended Plattsburg College. He is a senior at Denver University.

Mrs. Ewing Elected Choir Mothers Head At First Dutch Church

Miss William Ewing was elected president of the Choir Mothers Chapter of the First Dutch Reformed Church Wednesday night at the regular December meeting. Mrs. Clifford Bell, vice president, Mrs. Harry Rigby secretary and Mrs. Clarence Beecher, treasurer, were re-elected.

Prior to the election the chapter decided to elect officers for two year terms, the terms rotating so there will always be two officers who have served one year remaining to serve the other with two new officers. At last night's meeting the president and vice president were elected for two years, the secretary and treasurer for one year.

The officers will be installed at the January supper meeting, January 18.

During the past few days the Choir Mothers have sponsored Christmas parties for the youth choir of the church. Several plans for next year were discussed. Christmas party was held after the meeting and gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Kenneth Martin, retiring president, presented Donald R. Romme minister of music, with a gift from the chapter.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nelson Weidman, Miss William Ewing and Mrs. William Ewing. The table was decorated for the season with evergreens.

Cities and counties in Georgia collected $6,900,000 from alcoholic beverages in 1948.

Infielders Will Have Safer Life In 1950 if New Rules Are Enforced

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Life will be safer for infielders in 1950 if the new baseball rules are enforced.

The rules committee officially adopted the new code last night after nine months of strenuous effort. The rough stuff around second base came in for plenty of attention.

"Interference" by a base runner was interpreted in simple, direct terms that place a heavy burden on the umpire. The umpire always had to call interference, but now his attention is directed to the rule in specific words.

A batter is out when a preceding runner shall, in the judgment of the umpire, interfere with an infielder. The rule will read:

However, a new interpretation of the paragraph has been added. It goes like this:

"The objective of this rule is to penalize the offensive team for deliberate, unwarranted and unsportsmanlike action by a runner in leaving the baseline for the obvious purpose of crashing the pivot man on a double play rather than trying to reach his base."

Shortstops and second basemen who have been hurt through space by football-minded runners, probably will get some relief. The "volving block" came in for some hot criticism last summer when the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox took turns bowling over infielders.

Infielders warned

The infielder, too, was warned against roughness. When an infielder who does not have the ball

"obstructs" a runner, the umpire can determine the penalty.

For instance, if a batter hits a ball against the fence that the umpire thinks was long enough for a triple, he can award the batter three bases if he is "obstructed" at first by a throw or trip.

The committee has been working on the job for nine months, trying to reduce some of the go-bledgook of the old rules to plain English. It was a tough job.

Now the wording is simple and direct so that a sandlot kid can understand it.

Ten general divisions of the rules have been made, running from an opening section of the game's objectives through offensive and defensive rules to the scoring regulations.

Bob Finch, secretary of a sub-committee to the official rules committee, said there were "few basic changes." The spit ball was not even discussed.

Interpretive notes, following the main body of rules, were given official status to be employed only when the rule itself was not completely explanatory.

The catchers' box was reduced from 10 to eight feet directly behind the plate and the coaching box was extended from 15 feet to 20 feet.

MacK Celebrates 87th Birthday

Philadelphia, Dec. 22 (AP)—Cornelius J. McGillicuddy celebrates his 87th birthday today but whether baseball's Connie Mack was born Dec. 22 or 23, 1862, is still an open question.

"I have been told I arrived in the middle of the night," said the manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. "Some say it was the 22nd, others the 23rd."

No big celebration is planned. The Grand Old Man of Baseball planned only to hold his annual birthday news conference and be the honored guest at a luncheon attended only by relatives and close friends.

Although Connie has been a part of the baseball picture for 66 years—49 as manager of the Athletics—he prefers to think of the future rather than the past.

And most of all Connie likes to think of the years in 1950.

The year he hopes will bring another World Series championship in celebration of his golden anniversary as head of the A's.

Not since 1931 has the American League pennant or championship flag flown above Shibe Park. Connie has high hopes for next season.

Bowling

J. Doyle's pinfall of 580 topped the Rookie League activities at the Bowlodrome this week. Doyle had opening games of 181 and 189 and came back for a 210 solo in his finale.

Others in the coveted "500" bracket were D. Richi with 530; F. Stenson 511-518; and G. Bours 503. J. Heldcamp finished one pin out of the class with 499.

A pair of neat 190 games sandwiched around a 171 middle effort gave Charlie Herdun the leadership of the C.Y.O. circuit at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night. Herdun posted games of 156-171-198 for his pace-setting series. Vernon Burns was runner-up with a 224 blast and 549 total.

Pete Nagy fired 200-335; Jack Fautz 520; Nick Bruck 523; Jack Fautz 520; Ray Zech 520; Jack "Daisy" Schatzel 518; and Ed Norton 515.

Bun Rourke, although failing to hit the 500 circle, unloaded at bowling 500 middle game to take single honors for the night.

St. Peter's increased its lead to two games over Port Bowen Presentation.

Beverly Markle's 534 triple featured the Colonial Women's wheel last night at the "Palace" in a lowing scoring session.

Miss Marie sandwiched in a 216 singleton around marks of 153 and 183.

Only two other 500s were posted—Elizabeth Brook firing 523 and Tessa Moss 514.

Also of note were Bea Barley with 491; J. Smith 499; Marge Jansen 485; Charlotte Jansen 485; and Helen Trowbridge 484.

Safford and Scudder rolled a new Gold Division team single of 957. The match between Smith Avenue Storage and Ferraro's Bowlodrome was postponed.

In the Silver Division Marie Keckian's 476 triple topped the list on marks of 159-160-157. Vivian Slover shot 475 and Margaret Logan rolled 454. Pat Pearson's 199 singleton tied the league mark in that department.

Top effort in the Purple Division went to Kay North who fired 467 on games of 135-159-133.

Stone Ridge Manufacturing Company came up with a pair of new records—a 739 team single and 2112 team triple.

J. Guziak's 555 triple topped the pinfall in the Junior Major circuit Wednesday night at the Bowlodrome while Milt Cole Sr. unloaded a sizzling 245 singleton for top honors in that department.

Guziak fired 169-227-159 for his 555 series, four pins better than Arnie Hoppel who wound up with 553 on 177-149-225.

Elisawether in the loop G. Persico hit 201-543; Jim Daniels 212-537; Milt Cole Sr., 245-523; Nick Turk 521; Joe Hastings 515; Ted Gile, Jr., 511; Eddie Marks 510.

Vernon Freese shot a 536 triple to pace the Chalet Leaders this week at the Rosendale drives. Freese fired games of 150-178-208 for the top mark.

Also of note were L. Dyer with 210-531; Whitaker 515; R. Schoonmaker 470; E. McCaffrey 482; V. Kuhn 488; Joe Kwasney 493; H. Raak 472; G. DeFelice 483; A. Williams 470; and F. Davis 470.

City League Cagers In Christmas Bill

Trade Magazine Cites Joe Vozdik As Man of Month

Joe Vozdik, the popular Saugerties ex-professional pugilist and the regular referee for B'nai B'rith amateur bouts in Kingston, has been cited as "Man of the Month" in the December issue of the Saugerties Oil Dealer News.

A full page spread in the trade publication shows Vozdik in a familiar fighting pose and the article lauding Joe's business acumen is captioned "In This Corner."

Six other photos show various phases of Joe's business and ring career, including a shot of Vozdik refereeing a boxing match between two navy boys at Midway.

The publication points out that Vozdik's Community Service Station in Saugerties, with Joe assisted by Joe McCarty and Michael McCormack, pumps an excellent monthly gallonage. They average 160 lubrication jobs a month, and, with the aid of a special machine, which sprays soap and water, up to 300 wash jobs.

A Busy Man

Despite the pressure of business, the quiet soft-spoken Vozdik is a prominent figure in Saugerties civic affairs, the article notes. He is an active member of 14 organizations, serves as vice-president of the local Lions Club and of a Boy Scout troop. He teaches the boys boxing, naturally, in addition to other craft.

Naturally enough, relates the publication Vozdik has never neglected the accident which has him trading oil and gasoline rather than lefts and rights.

"Now that it's all over," it quotes Vozdik, "it was the best thing that could have happened to me. I'll take the cash register bull over the ring-side gang every time."

Rienzo Has 11 Points In St. Lawrence Win

Canton, N. Y.—Michael Rienzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Rienzo, 283 East Union street, Kingston, scored eleven points to help the St. Lawrence University freshman basketball team beat Central City Business Institute of Syracuse, 66-48, here last week. Mike, a graduate of Kingston High School in 1947, was team captain for the opening game, and played well on both offense and defense. He was also first-string quarterback on the freshman football team this fall.

Doubleheader Planned At the Auditorium

Although the Orange-Sullivan Basketball League has expired twice in Kingston this season, the traditional Christmas Night basketball attraction will be staged at the municipal auditorium.

Andy Murphy III, Recreation League director said today.

Replacing the usual independent or semi-pro league game will be a City Recreation League doubleheader featuring four of the city's best quintets.

The red hot Potter combine is scheduled against Wilbyway Motors at 7:30 p. m., with the undefeated Marlborough Legionnaires and Gardlands Laundry clashing an hour later.

High Class Club

Marlborough, current leaders in the five loop, is the same squad that is making a gallant bid for the Orange-Sullivan crown. In Casey and Lundy, the southern Ulsterites have two of the best shots in the area.

The Marlborough squad stresses team play and precision shooting. They rate as solid favorites over Gardlands but the jammy men with a star-studded cast that includes Buddy Smith, Rod Sagendorf, Joe Albany and Dick Priest among others is conceded a good chance of staging an upset.

The Christmas attractions are regularly scheduled league contests, Murphy said. A similar doubleheader is planned for New Year's night, he added.

The probable lineups:

(First Game)

Wilbyways	Potters
B. Hunt	Greene
F. Parslow	Schoonmaker
Schuler	McCarty
Albany	Sass
Mathers	Emple

Gardlands	Marlborough
Sagendorf	Murphy
Priest	Valentino
B. Smith	Purdy
Mames	Casey
Albany	Bligmo

Iona Cops Seventh
Straight Cage Win

New Rochelle, N. Y., Dec. 22 (AP) — Iona College won its seventh basketball victory in a row last night, defeating the University of New Mexico, 61-56.

Failure to hit from the free throw line cost New Mexico the game, as the westerners were able to convert only 12 of 27 tries. Iona made good on 23 of 32 free throw attempts, including eight without a miss by forward Frank O'Shea.

New Mexico led at halftime, 33-29, but with minutes left, O'Shea broke a 56-56 tie by sinking a foul. Bill Weyer, New Mexico forward who was high scorer with 21 points, missed a chance to tie the score a moment later with a free throw.

O'Shea had 18 points for Iona. Chemical control of weeds has been found cheaper than hand-cutting by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Distaff Cagers Look
To 1950 Campaign

Woodstock, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Woodstock Girls Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball members are wearing their honors as undefeated teams, as well as their colorful new uniforms. In the two games with High Falls the girls have had brisk competition, and although there are not too many girls basketball teams in the area they are working towards keeping up the high calibre of the games with which they have started.

Enthusiasm is running high among the girls themselves and the spectators at the games were equally as excited over the good sportsmanship and fine athletic prowess of the girls. This year marks their first public appearance and they are all looking forward to a bigger organization next year.

No definite schedule has been set for the 1950 season, but the Woodstock girls are eager to arrange games with other girls basketball teams of area schools in the area. Groups interested in playing the Woodstock teams are asked to call the Woodstock school. Also groups of girls who are not affiliated with any school or organization, who would like to form teams, also will be welcome.

Local Fives Score

Recent Victories

Woodstock, Dec. 22 — Friday evening the Woodstock Jayvees were defeated 48-43 by the Kingston Wolverines. Woodstock didn't click until the last quarter but to no avail. Waterous scored 17 for Woodstock while Telepas of the Wolverines scored 18.

In the Varsity game the same evening Woodstock triumphed over the Stone Ridge Varsity 71-39. It looked at the start as if the game would be close, but Woodstock closed the gap and limited Stone Ridge to very few shots, while the locals monopolized the game. Klein and Wilson of Woodstock each scored 16 points while Holgren of Stone Ridge scored 26.

On Saturday evening the Varsity played Milady Taverners in the preliminary game in Saratoga. Once again Woodstock took the lead while M.T. fought a losing battle. Of Woodstock's 52 points, Klein sank 17, Wilson 11, and Schmeers 10. Milady Taverners' star was Friesse, who contributed 13 points for his team.

Yule Program

Woodstock, Dec. 22—The Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock will hold its Sunday school Christmas entertainment tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the church recreation hall.

Scout Party

Woodstock, Dec. 22—Brownie Scout Troop 27, consisting of 15 members under the direction of Mrs. R. J. Lapo, held a Christmas party Dec. 20, at the firemen's hall. There was a Christmas tree and gifts were exchanged. The troop committee consisted of Mrs. R. J. Lapo, troop leader; Dorothy Shults, assistant troop leader; Mrs. Edna DeWitt; Mrs. Rhoda Klippel; Mrs. Vernon Wilber and Alice Wolven.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Dec. 22—Cornelius Sewell returned to Woodstock Wednesday after a week's trip to St. Petersburg, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hard spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Woodstock and have returned to Kiyack. Mr. and Mrs. Hard and Mr. Hard's mother, Mrs. Shaw, will be spending the Christmas week-end at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. Mrs. Florence Martin will visit Mr. and Mrs. Sensoth at the Albert Hotel in New York for the next few days. Mrs. Sensoth is the former Mrs. J. L. Sensoth. Mrs. Charles Rapp and her son, Albie, and her daughter, Judy, will visit Mrs. Rapp's parents for the holidays.

New Shop Opens

Woodstock, Dec. 22 — Mollie Smith's new "Showcase Gallery," next to the Woodstock Post Office, opened today. The tiny shop contains a display of Mrs. Smith's paintings, crocheted bags, aprons and skirts.

Church Party

Woodstock, Dec. 22—The Sunday school of the Methodist Church of Woodstock held its entertainment and Christmas party Tuesday night in the church. After a program of recitations and Christmas songs by members of the Sunday school, a Christmas pageant was presented. The Rev. Charles Wharton delivered a Christmas message. Following the benediction Santa Claus arrived with a sack of gifts for the young folks, which he distributed around the large gaily lighted tree.

U. S. Official Has
Doubts 200,000
Illegally in Area

New York, Dec. 22 (AP) — The head of the New York district of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service says he knows of no facts that would support the claim that 200,000 aliens are living illegally in the metropolitan area.

Edward J. Shaughnessy made the statement yesterday in regard to charges made in Washington Tuesday by Rep. Ed Gossett (D-Tex.) chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and Rep. J. Caleb Boggs (R-Del.), a committee member.

Shaughnessy said both congressmen are "sincere and honest men who are entitled to their preliminary" but that he couldn't accept the 200,000 figure as correct. He noted that since 1940, under amended provisions of immigration laws, substantially fewer than that many aliens—who otherwise would be subject to deportation—had filed applications to become citizens.

"If there were a vast number of aliens illegally living here," he said, "it would make common sense to suppose that most of them would take advantage of these provisions to become citizens."

J. Vincent Knogh, U. S. attorney for the eastern district of New York, said that from the number of cases we have had in the past, I would say the figure of 200,000 is much too high.

Gossett and Calley charged that numerous loopholes in immigration regulations and the "absolute refusal of the New York courts to enforce laws" had resulted in the presence of 200,000 aliens illegally living in the city area.

Knogh denied there has been laxity in enforcement of the law.

Nearly 600,000,000 acres of western lands in the United States are classed as semi-arid and arid.

Furman Elected
Masonic Master

Miles F. Furman of Napanoch was elected worshipful master of Wawarsing Lodge, No. 582, Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New York, at a meeting held Wednesday, in Ellenville. He succeeds Dean E. Wright of Woodbourne, who was master last year. Furman is an instructor at the Napanoch Institution for Male Delinquents. He is also president of the Napanoch Fire Department, president of the Napanoch School Board and a past deacon of the Methodist Church. The ceremony of investiture is tentatively set for January 4, at Ellenville.

Stealing Wreaths

Police were notified yesterday that Christmas wreaths were stolen from houses in various sections of the city. Several were reported stolen from houses on Maiden Lane, and two later reports said others were taken from homes on Clinton avenue and Prospect street.

Car Snaps Pole

Police were notified at 3:47 p. m. Wednesday that a pole of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., near 40 Monticello avenue, was snapped off near its base when it was struck by a car operated by Mrs. Edna Nickerson, 20 Hone street. The driver reported that the "front shimmied" and she could not control the car, according to Officers Peter Camp large city at those ranges. In the third phase of flight, a device to "home" the missile in to the exact target will be required.

An indication of one line of research toward means of keeping a missile on course over distances of several thousand miles was mentioned in the pamphlet's discussion of "celestial navigation" methods for guiding missiles.

Using this method, the rocket is equipped with instruments which automatically read the stars, much as a sailor navigates a ship. The electronic brain uses the position of a star to control the course of the rocket. Scientists see a distinct tactical advantage in a rocket independent of conventional radar beams. An enemy—as was proved during World War 2—can "jam" or upset a radar transmission and, conceivably, might seize control of a rocket and turn it back on its launchers. But when the steering control is within the rocket itself, as in the instance of the "celestial navigation" idea, counter-measures would be much more difficult, they point out.

Valuable Glass Goes to Village

New York, Dec. 22 (AP)—Six stained glass panels valued at $100,000 will return to their home in a Swiss town for Christmas after a century's absence.
The panels are the gift of H. C. Honnegger, a New York importer and their present owner. Honnegger had fitted the windows into his home (at 101 Groton street, Forest Hills, Queens).
Friends sent Honnegger newspaper clippings in which a Swiss professor of art bemoaned the disappearance of the glass panels from the town of Sempach a century ago. Honnegger said it seemed appropriate to him that the panels be returned to their original home in time for Christmas.
A specialist in such glass, Honnegger bought the panels in 1942 as a part of the collection of the late J. Pierpont Morgan. They represent the three original states of Switzerland.

A century ago, Honnegger said, the leaders of Sempach were less art-conscious and ordered the panels removed from the city hall to let in more light. They passed through various hands before being purchased by Morgan.

Yokohama, Dec. 22 (AP)—Consul General Angus Ward and most of his Menden staff, which was reported by Chinese Communists, sailed for the United States tonight aboard the liner President Wilson.

represent the three original states of Switzerland.
A century ago, Honnegger said, the leaders of Sempach were less art-conscious and ordered the panels removed from the city hall to let in more light. They passed through various hands before being purchased by Morgan.
